

Submission method of manuscript data and output samples

▼Preparation

- Please prepare PDF files for the front cover, the spine (the portion which is visible when a book is on a bookshelf), the main text and an output sample (all portions printed).
 - ※ Regarding the output sample, please convert the data to PDF and print it out to submit.
(We do not accept an output sample printed from the original software.)
- For the main text, please submit complete PDF data combined into a single file. We cannot edit the data.
- If there are blank pages in the main text, please also include them in the PDF data.
- Please prepare PDF data using Adobe PDF or PrimoPDF to do the PDF conversion.
(If data is converted to PDF by another method, faulty PDF data with garbled characters or missing graphics may be created.)

- If endsheets are required, please include four blank pages both before and after the main text.
- If endsheets are not required, but blank pages after the front cover are required, please include two blank pages before the main text.
Also, if you need blank pages after the main text, please include two blank pages after the main text in the PDF data.

▼Submission of manuscript data and output samples

- Please send manuscript data for submission by e-mail (up to 5MB) or use a free online storage service such as Firestorage, GigaFile or Date Deliver.
You can also send manuscript data by post or home delivery service.
 - Please send an output sample by post or home delivery service.
 - If you can check the finished sample before printing, an output sample is not required.
- The output sample will be used as a reference when checking the data and will be used to check for missing images etc. Please note that we do not check the data character by character. In principle, we will process the data as we receive it.

*Please be sure to check the manuscript data carefully before sending it.

In the event of changes, corrections, replacement, deletions etc that originate from customer's side, the following costs will be incurred.

★ Regarding finished samples before printing

If you wish, you can confirm a finished sample before printing (this is our recommendation). This is free of charge, but if there are changes, corrections, replacement, deletions etc that originate from customer's side, the following costs will be incurred, so please be sure to check all the data carefully before submitting.

1,000 yen (excluding tax) per one replacement area (1 page)
